MAX ASUR SHOWS STARTLING IMPROVEMENT IN LATONIA RACE.

Circumstances Lead Judge Price to Institute an Investigation Which Is Not Yet Concluded—Kentucky Course Again Wet.

Cincinnati, O., October 31.—The surprisingly improved showing of Max Asur, winner of the fifth race at Latonia today, following confident and strong support of him, caused Judge Price to begin an investigation immediately after the running of the race. He ordered the horse submitted to a thorough inspection by veterinarian Phelps, but the suspicion that he had been stimulated proved unfounded, as he cooled out in the customary style. The veterinarian attributed the horse's suspicious condition to his excitable disposition. Judge Price means to delve deeper into the horse's inconsistent showing, and has taken his running under investigation. The horse ran in the interest of L. Purcell & Co., and was carded as being trained by C. Clingerman. He made a show of the cheap lot of opponents he met and won by ten lengths eased to a canter.

Weather and track conditions today were again bad, but a fairly good attendance witnessed the racing. Speculation showed improvement as compared with yesterday. The track was soggy, though not deep, and slow time was recorded in all the races. Several of the finishes were close and exciting, the one in the closing dash being exceptionally so. Tay Pay got up in the last stride to win from Stick Pin after he appeared hopelessly beaten.

The handicap at six furlongs went to T. M. Green by a head, with Raleigh P. D. second, the same margin in advance of Grover Hughes. Ethel D. was well supported in this race, but she wheeled at the start, causing her to be virtually left. She moved into prominence in the first three furlongs but fell back in the stretch.

The mile race for two-year-olds furnished an upset by the victory of Brosseau over Free Lance, the favorite, with Mack B. Eubanks in third place. The Griffin starter showed a meritorious performance and is of an improving sort. The race furnished additional disappointment in that Light O' M' Life was cut down on the first turn, when Knights Differ tried to bolt.

The inaugural dash came near to carrying with it a disqualification, as Chaumere, the winner, impeded Zim during the stretch drive. The judges did not deem the interference sufficient to warrant the displacement of the winner, but held jockey T. Koerner responsible for rough riding and suspended him for five days. Jockey Henry's poor handling of Al Muller in the second race contributed to that horse's defeat by Phil Mohr.

Jockey Loftus was suspended for four days by the starter for disobedience at the post in the fifth race. Loftus rode three of the afternoon's winners.

Lottery Man came out of his race yesterday in bad condition and will not again be a starter for some time.

The two-horse combination consisting of Chaumere and Phil Mohr paid $304 for $2. The three-horse combination of T. M. Green, Max Asur and Tay Pay paid $175.75.

Today's arrivals included W. F. Stoval, a well-known publisher who was interested in the Tampa track last season.

John Furlong and Merrick arrived today from Lexington and will be handled by Jack Baker during the remainder of the racing here.

C. A. Bergin will go along with the Juarez special to attend to the custom house work necessary for the expeditious transfer of the horses across the Mexican border into Juarez.

J. P. Ross, who was among the day's visitors, announced that he would be unable to accept the proffer made him to act as track superintendent at Charleston, S. C., on account of his duties at Lexington.

The opening race furnished an unusual incident in that not a dollar was bet on Fillibeg straight. There was some support for him for place and show. Had he won the straight pool would have gone to backers of the second horse.

There were few work-outs this morning over the bad track. The following were among the best:

Attentive—Mile in 1:57.
Beach Sand—Mile in 1:58.
Cherryola—Half mile in 54⅘.
Clearwater—Five-eighths in 1:10.
Clubs—Three-eighths in 40.

RACING RECORD OF JIM GAFFNEY.

The most notable achievement of Jim Gaffney, whose retirement to the stud has just been announced by A. O. Bianchi, was the winning of the Hopeful Stakes in 1907. As a two-year-old he gave great promise, but troublesome legs prevented him from racing up to that promise. Besides winning the Hopeful, he ran second to Fair Play in the Flask Stakes and second to the great Colin in the Grand Union Hotel Stakes. He is royally bred and his racing record in full is as follows:

Jim Gaffney, b. h, 1905, by Golden Garter—Miss Maxim.

WILL NOT GO TO AUSTRALIA.

Lexington, Ky., October 31.—Catesby Woodford and Phil T. Chinn have abandoned the idea of sending fifty-four thoroughbred broodmares to Australia. They found that they could not get a boat from San Francisco before December 1, and that they would have to contract to send eighty head on that boat at a cost of $80 per head for transportation. They figured hat they could not afford to send eighty head and that to leave as late as December 1 would prove detrimental to their contemplated sale. They now say that they will hold the mares over until next autumn and sell them in France, in the meanwhile sending their yearlings to the English market next summer.

The three-year-old Trap Rock and the two-year-olds Toastrack, Dragnet and Lucky Lass, belonging to August Belmont, arrived at the Nursery Stud this morning from Belmont Park. They are to run out all winter.

SUPPOSED CHAMPION BEATEN BY 100 TO 1 SHOT IN ENGLAND

London, October 21.—J. B. Joel's Absurd won the Middle Park Plate in such runaway fashion as to point to him as the best two-year-old colt of the year, but the performance did not shed much light on the probable disposition of the classic races of next year. Absurd is in the Two Thousand Guineas of 1912, but is not engaged in the Derby or St. Leger. This leaves White Star as Mr. Joel's hope for a repetition of Derby honors next year. It might be said that there are not lacking those who deem him capable of equalling the great feat of his brother Sunstar. In the meantime at Sandown Park yesterday in the Great Sapling Plate at five furlongs Absurd very unexpectedly went down to defeat before Major Eustace Loder's bay colt Coriander. The latter is by Spearmint—Admiration and is consequently a half brother to the famous mare Pretty Polly. He had started but once before and then had finished unplaced to Pitmaston in a race at Stockton. Absurd was a tremendous favorite at 100 to 12 on, while Coriander was so little thought of that 100 to 1 was freely offered against him, with very few takers. Nevertheless, he went right out in front and, leading all the way, won by a length and a half, with Absurd second and Sol Joel's St. Pat III. next. Absurd carried 134 pounds to 117 on Coriander. However, Coriander's triumph was achieved by a display of great speed and is reckoned one of the most sensational features of this year's racing. He is a fine upstanding colt with plenty of bone and muscle, but somewhat coarse at present. He is a Derby candidate next year and in view of his victory over Absurd will not be without consideration for that much coveted event.

Royal Realm walked over for The Whip at Newmarket, as he did a year ago. Had there been a race it would have finished at the Old Cambridgeshire winning post, and it is the only existing event which does end there. The famous old post stands isolated on a spot which for many years was the scene of much bustle and excitement. The Whip, by the way, never changes hands, no matter how many times it is won. It is supposed to be made from the hair of the tail and mane of the famous race horse Eclipse, and it occupies a prominent position in a glass case over the mantlepiece in the coffee room of the Jockey Club, at Newmarket.

Many winners of the Middle Park Plate have subsequently scored in classic races. Melton, Donovan, Isinglass, Ladas, Gaitee More, and Lemberg won the Derby; Pero Gomez, Melton, Petrarch, Donovan, Isinglass, Gaitee More, Pretty Polly, and Bayardo were successful at Doncaster, while the Guineas and Oaks have also been gathered in by horses who, as two-year-olds, won the Middle Park Plate.

Fourteen of M. Edmond Blanc's broodmares from the Jardy Stud were sold by auction on Monday for a total of $22,330, the top price of $6,150 being paid by Lady James Douglas for the famous mare La Camargo. That she should be sold for so small a sum may be regarded as proof that her stud career has not been on a par with her career on the race course, for the daughter of Childwick—Belle, by Bonne is now only thirteen years old.

Lomond, which on account of coughing was unable to meet his engagement in the Middle Park Plate, and thereby robbed the race of much of its interest, will not run again this year, and is to be forthwith turned out of training, and sent to his owner's farm at Newmarket.

For a long time now F. Wootton's position at the head of the list of winning jockeys has been beyond assail, and, let his rivals increase their scores as they may, he is sure to have a big balance in hand when the final reckoning comes at the close of November.

Cherimoya will not run again this season. This decision has been come to in consequence of some trouble she has given her trainer from contracted feet. She is sound again now, but it is thought the wisest policy to give the Oaks winner every chance of making a good recovery.

Bronzino and Bachelor's Double, the English representatives which were sent over to contest the valuable Prix du Consiel Municipal at Paris recently, made a fruitless journey, neither of them succeeding in getting into the first three. There was a field of eighteen, and the race was won by M. E. de St. Alary's Basse Points, with M. R. de Rivauld's Melbourne second and M. Michel Ephrussi's Matchless third. The winner is a filly by Simonian out of Basse Terre, and she had previously this season accounted for some good races in France, including the Grand Prix de Trouville-Deauville in August.

The well-known jockey, S. Heapy, steered his fourteen-hundreth winner in Belgium recently when he scored on Astucieuse, in the Prix des Pinsons, at the same time scoring his one hundred and fortieth winner of the present season. Heapy, who has been riding in Belgium since 1900, is a nephew of Sam Loates, who himself was a brilliant jockey, and headed the winning list in England in 1899, with a total of 160 successful rides. In several other years Loates was second or third.

J. J. Parkinson has sold Magical Maid, 2, by Fariman out of Belle of Bruce, and St. Brede, 2, by St. Brendan out of Rolling Stone, to H. M. Hartigan at a long figure.

The stewards of the Turf Club had before them this week an application from a considerable number of owners and trainers for an extra meeting at the Curragh, but they declined to sanction another fixture at the Irish headquarters.

In stable winnings, Lord Derby is now well past the $200,000 mark and, besides being now the uncontested leader among our leading winning owners of 1911, has made a financial record much beyond anything he has ever before achieved on the turf. J. B. Joel is as securely lodged in second place and, thanks to his young Sundridges, has had a more than prosperous year. The owners whose stable earnings aggregate $15,000 or more, are:

Steadfast has become the leader among the winning horses of the year and with Swynford and Sunstar retired for good and all, will retain his supremacy to the end of 1911 racing. Such stake racing as remains does not provide any other horse a reasonable chance of overhauling, besides which he will probably pick up several more races before going into winter quarters. He is a great young horse and if he remains sound seems bound to reap further honors next year. To date the horses having won $12,500 or more, are:

Sundridge is afar away leader among the sires of the year and certain to be still holding his dignified position when the flat racing of this year comes to an end at Manchester, in November. Persimmon is now second, but hard pressed by Stedfast's sire Chaucer, Stedfast being nearly entirely responsible for the latter's proud eminence. The sires represented by progeny with aggregate earnings of $25,000 or more are:

Sire, Foaled, Pedigree.	Win's.	Won.

GRAVESEND TRACK ON THE MARKET.

New York, October 31.—"Is the Gravesend track for sale? was the question put to Philip J. Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, at the United Hunts races last Saturday.

"If anybody wants to buy my hat and clothes I'll sell them," was the reply. "Yes, Gravesend is for sale, if I can get my price, but you can rest assured that the old track will not go for a song."

Mr. Dwyer still believes that racing will come back some of these days and gives as a reason that too many persons demand a revival of the sport to allow it to die. A steward of the Jockey Club said to a reporter on Saturday:

"No attempt will be made to re-open the big tracks until it has been legally established just what the track owners and the public can do. If the Gittins bill had been passed by the Legislature this year the tracks might have been opened, but there is no doubt that hundreds of persons would have been arrested for alleged violations of the law. There is open betting on other sports without a protest from the reformers who are opposed to racing, which shows undue prejudice against the turf. But in due time the general public and the lawmakers will look on racing in a different light and then we may secure the desired relief."

LAUREL MEETING AT AN END

BREAKING OF TRACK RECORDS MARKS CLOSING DAY AT MARYLAND COURSE.

Plate Glass Wins Annapolis Handicap in Stirring Drive with Martin W. Littleton—Marlboro Meeting to Open Today.

Laurel, Md., October 31.—As an extra attraction for the closing day of the Maryland State Fair Associatnon's meeting, a novelty race was given at Laurel this afternoon. Six automobiles competed in a ten-mile race. The racing program itself was a brilliant one. Besides the Annapolis Handicap at six furlongs, to which was added $2,000, there was given a $600 handicap for all ages at one mile and a sixteenth. Large fields were named in most of the races and stirring contests resulted. The racing conditions could not well have been improved upon, the weather being delightful, while the track was at its best. P. S. P. Randolph furnished the winner of the Annapolis Handicap in Plate Glass, which ran coupled with Besom. The latter set a terrific pace to the stretch turn, where Plate Glass dashed to the front and, in a fierce drive, managed to beat Martin W. Littleton a head. Hilarious was third another head away. He ran a splendid race considering that he kept bearing to the outside all through the homestretch. Agnier was withdrawn from the sixth race just at post time and to eliminate delay betting on the race was allowed to stand, but all money wagered on Agnier was refunded.

The last race was in darkness and it was impossible to distinguish the colors of the contestants.

Fifteen carloads of horses, making up a special which contained the pick of the stables racing here, left for Norfolk at the conclusion of today's races. H. G. Bedwell, R. E. Watkins, William Garth, C. C. Smithson, W. T. Anderson, J. W. Burttschell, J. R. Keene, E. F. Cooney and Albert Simons were among the ones represented.

Efficiency, winner of the first race, was boosted from $600 to $1,000 by G. Miller, but the filly was protected and bought in by her owner.

Algernon Daingerfield, acting for James R. Keene, has sold the two-year-olds Cloak and Promised Land to Sam Louis for $1,000.

The scene of racing in Maryland will shift tomorrow to Marlboro, where a ten-days' meeting will begin under the auspices of the Southern Maryland Racing Association.

The course was in such condition today that new track records were made in several of the races.

GOING TO EUROPE FOR POINTERS.

Robert Leighton, presiding judge and racing secretary at various tracks in the Pacific Northwest, passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to Europe. He is accompanied by Mrs. Leighton and will first make a visit to his old home in England, after which he plans to devote considerable time to an inspection of English and French race courses and methods of conducting racing.

Judge Leighton is in executive charge of the racing on all the British Columbia tracks and it is with a view of there making use of such innovations as may seem desirable that he has undertaken to look over the foreign courses. He reports that the British Columbia racing associations had a prosperous and successful season this year and that it is the ambition of those most concerned to so increase the importance of their meetings that the best horses in the country will in time be attracted. The plans for next year's racing in that province contemplate the opening of several valuable stakes. The breeding of thoroughbreds in British Columbia will also be encouraged by the opening of stakes for provincebreds.

A conference was recently held at Coeur d'Alene having for its object an amicable arrangement of racing dates for next year so as to avoid conflict between the Coeur d'Alene meeting and those in British Columbia. It is probable that a spring meeting will be given at Coeur d'Alene and that the British Columbia schedules will be arranged to fit in with such an arrangement.

The mutuel system of betting will continue to be employed at the British Columbia tracks, and Judge Leighton, while abroad, will pay particular attention to the French method of conducting the mutuels.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Flying Yankee, the two-year-old bay colt by Yankee—Mary Black, owned by Richard T. Wilson, has arrived at Belmont Park from Pimlico.

Trap Rock, Dragnet, Toastrack and Lucky Lass have been shipped from Belmont Park to August Belmont's Nursery Stud in Kentucky. The first named went wrong after a series of successful races in Canada last summer and all efforts to patch him up proved unavailing.

J. E. Nash, who has handled the horses of the Brownleigh Park Stable for several years, visited Belmont Park Sunday to inspect some horses that he contemplates racing during the winter. Trainer Nash has been handling a few horses at Laurel that will be campaigned at Norfolk.

The Prix de Velizy, for two-year-olds, value $800, distance one mile, one and one-half furlongs, was won at Maisons-Laffitte in France, yesterday, by W. K. Vanderbilt's Iowa. The same owner's Montrose II. finished second in the Prix Eclipse for two-year-olds, $4,450, distance one mile.

The departure of S. C. Hildreth and his racehorses for a campaign in England is regretted by patrons of the turf in this country. Hildreth is believed to be the best trainer of thoroughbreds in the world. He has conducted his stable on a big scale and has won thousands of dollars in stakes and purses on the American and Canadian race tracks. Just how he will succeed in England remains to be seen. It is said that he may form a partnership with Louis Winans, the American who paid $75,000 to J. E. Madden for Sir Martin and Edward and also bought Dalmatian from Hildreth for $45,000 last year.—New York Sun.

WOULD CROSS WITH THOROUGHBREDS.

Virginia Writer Sees Necessity for Government Aid to Horse Breeding.

Andrew P. O'Conor writes entertainingly in the Virginia Pilot, commenting on a Washington Post editorial on the breeding of horses. The editorial comment in the Washington Post was:

"There is no strain in America from which to get a nucleus to begin with. It would be necessary to go to France and Hungary for both sires and dams and it would take years, unless the importations were on a large scale, to supply the army."

Mr. O'Conor has to say in answer:

"It may be possible to select the desired blood in Europe, as a great many valuable animals have been exported from this country for breeding purposes during the last century, among them 'Tom Thumb,' a little wooly Indian poney from beyond the Missouri, whose trotting record of 100 miles at Sunbury, Eng., in 1829, with a driver weighing 140 pounds, in a 108-pound sulky, in ten hours and seven minutes, has never been equaled, to the peerless Rhoda B., which produced Orby, Mr. Croker's Derby winner, for which the Italian government has recently offered him $100,000. Orby goes back in breeding through Fanny Washington to the great Virginia sire, Sir Archy, which gave to the American turf its greatest performers over a distance of ground.

"Since the introduction of power driven vehicles the market for horses is vanishing, and but little interest is being paid by farmers and breeders to the improvement of the few animals which are being bred, and the recent adverse legislation in connection with horse racing in America has caused many of our best breeders of the thoroughbred to either dispose of their stock or to ship them to Europe, where the laws rather protect racing.

"So, if our government is to be supplied with suitable army horses it must encourage their breeding while it is yet possible to procure the foundation upon which to build a family suitable for all branches of the army service, and to establish a distinct type it will be necessary to pay particular attention to the selection of the mares as well as the sires—it being granted that the sire must be of sound thoroughbred racing blood. The Morgans, while tough, are rather light; the Hackneys are too soft and too extravagant in action and too thick and heavy in the shoulders.

"The shires and percherons are slow movers and seldom blend with the thoroughbred blood. The common bred mare may possess every outward appearance of quality, but from her it would be impossible to produce a distinct type of animal.

"The Clydesdales breed well to color; they are sound, fast walkers, handsome and breed remarkably well when crossed with the thoroughbred, and with a few years of careful mating a distinct type of horse could be produced, suitable for troop, transport and gun. Such a type could be produced at comparatively small cost, and I suggest the following plan:

"That the agricultural department be supplied with sufficient funds to purchase say 500 maiden mares of from three to five years old.

"That these mares should be distributed gratis among farmers in the section of our country best adapted to the successful rearing of horses, and to remain the property of the government.

"That the mares should be served only by approved thoroughbred sires and that the female product of these matings shall be kept exclusively for stud purposes, and that the board of agriculture shall have the right of option over the male produce, and the progeny to be bought from the farmers and paid for according to their actual worth at the age of four years.

"The first cross would be: Thoroughbred sire, pure bred Clydesdale mare, one-half thoroughbred foal.

"The second cross would be: Thoroughbred sire, one-half thoroughbred mare, three-quarter thoroughbred foal.

"The third cross would be: Thoroughbred sire, three-quarter thoroughbred mare, seven-eighths thoroughbred foal.

"Thus it will be seen that with a small outlay of money and a few years' time, a distinct type of animal can be produced possessing every desired quality.

"In selecting the blood lines for the stallions it will be well to adhere to those in whose veins the most copious infusions of thoroughly Americanized blood can be found; for, while I am willing to admit that the English horses are great on their native heath, recent importations from there have given us few really great race horses over a distance of ground. American sportsmen have for centuries imported the best blood in England, and in the days when four-mile heat races were fashionable, the blood of Sir Archy invariably vanquished the descendants of Saltram, The Shark, Diomed, Spread Eagle, Sir Harry, Gabriel, Buzzard, Eagle, Chance, Priam, St. Giles, Rowton, Margrave, Barefoot, Sarpedon, Caestus, Trustee, Emancipation, Glencoe, Riddleworth, Leviathan and others.

"Of course, Fashion, by Trustee, defeated the great Boston (by Timoleon, by Sir Archy), but she traced back also to Sir Archy, through old Reality.

"All of this great blood has been infused in our best strains, and in all the world there is not today better racing stock to be found in any part of the globe.

"The racing in England is usually on the turf, while here the tracks are hard, which is conductive to a high rate of speed, and probably for that reason our great strains of thoroughbreds are looked upon merely as a breed of sprinters, when such is not a fact.

"Most of our richest purses have been for two and three-year-olds, over distances of less than a mile, which has been an incentive for breeders to produce sprinters, and among the best of these have been horses bred from high-priced English sires.

"The army requires horses possessed of stamina, speed, strength, size, courage and conformation, and with a moderate outlay of money, intelligent management and a few years' time, this government can originate a distinct type of animal suitable in every way for its requirements and at the same time restore an industry which modern inventions and reformers threaten to destroy."

WILLONYX NOW A FAMOUS HORSE.

When the sturdy and staying horse, Willonyx, won the Cesarewitch Handicap at Newmarket October 11, he made a new record in that he was under the greatest weight ever carried to victory by a winner of that race. He carried the crushing impost of 131 pounds. The nearest to this grand feat of weight carrying over such a long and trying course was Sheen's Cesarewitch triumph in 1890 under 128 pounds. Willonyx also made another record for himself as the only winner in succession of the Chester Cup, Ascot Stakes, Ascot Gold Cup and Cesarewitch Handicap. He is now the most talked about and most praised horse in England and, hearing that continental breeders are already seeking to buy him, an English syndicate is being hastily organized to proffer Mr. Howard $150,000 for the horse for the sake of retaining him for service in England exclusively. In the meantime Mr. Howard has not said whether the horse is for sale at any price.

Willonyx is a brown colt, fours years old, by William the Third—Tribonyx. He had only one outing in his first season, when he was beaten in the Rendlesham Stakes at Kempton Park. Last year he led off by taking a Maiden Plate at Kempton Spring, was beaten in a minor race at Windsor and then won the Ardenrun Plate at Lingfield and Highweight Stakes at Ascot. Nine subsequent races provided two successes, one in the Knowsley Dinner Stakes at Liverpool July, and the other in the Free Handicap at Newmarket. He has only once been beaten this year, viz., when he failed to concede thirteen pounds to King Midas in a Biennial at the Newmarket First Spring meeting.

As to the manner of the running of the Cesarewitch, London Sportsman says: "The white flag was not hoisted until five minutes after time, and then it took Mr. Willoughby nearly a quarter of an hour to get them away. The start would have been a very good one had not Yellow Slave whipped half round, and Ignition, which went away at sprinting pace, speedily took a ten-lengths lead of everything. Wolftoi headed the others, closely attended by Himan, Clannish and Bryony, Willonyx, Papavero, Mirador, Trepida and Martingale II. being the most prominent of the others. As they turned on to the flat Wolftoi broke down and was dismounted, and six furlongs from home Ignition, though fast coming back, was still clear of Himan, next to which followed Clannish, Papavero, Bryony and Clarenceux, Mirador, Willonyx and Trepida being next, with Marco Fraser now last. From this point Willonyx rapidly improved his position, and as they left the Bushes he took the lead, being about a neck in front of Papavero, with Martingale II. close up, followed by Mirador, Yellow Slave and Columbus, Bryony, Trepida, Dalmatian and Clarenceux heading the others. Coming out of the Dip Martingale II. became second, but there was little change in the position of the others, and Willonyx won by three parts of a length. Martingale II. beat Papavero by five lengths for second place. Mirador was fourth, Columbus fifth, Yellow Slave sixth, Trepida seventh, Bryony eight, Himan ninth, Dalmatian tenth, Victory eleventh, Clannish twelfth, Ignition thirteenth, Marco Fraser next, and Clarenceux last. Time, by Benson's chronograph, 3:54⅘.

DEPLORES SUPPRESSION OF SPORT.

The Marquis of Queensbury, writing recently in the Chicago Tribune, gives expression to sentiments that will forcibly appeal to American lovers of certain forms of sport that have been the victim of malicious political attacks in this country, when he says:

"Since I have been in America nothing has struck me more forcibly than the misapplication of the words sport and sportsman. To my mind this very misapplication is the key to the reason that the people have been deprived of their legitimate rights in the way of true sporting events, such as racing and boxing.

"Where I come from a sportsman means a man who has all the highest qualities of honor, courage and endurance. It is even applied to other walks of life. For instance, when a man has met with great reverses in fortune and comes to the front battling bravely to preserve his honor and honesty we call him a good sportsman and love to give him a leg up.

"Sport also means all that is best in open competition, both in man and animal, where anything crooked, mean, or degrading, is not entitled to the appellation. Here I have been running the risk of getting a black eye, as according to my vernacular, I could quite well refer to a lady friend or relative as a good sport, and mean only that she loves outdoor exercises and pastimes, whereas here with the 'y' added, I would certainly have got that punch.

"Again, a man is called a sport here who is a gambler, bar frequenter, and frequenter of certain places not blue, and who loves to come home with the milk wagons. My word for him would be a rake. No wonder the legislatures have tried to put down sport, if sport means what it appears to mean here. Mind you, I am not posing as a model. I am no better than the rest of them right now, and have made them hum in my time, but I never looked upon it as an addition to my sportsmanlike qualities, but rather a sowing of wild oats, which brought no bars to my escutcheon of sportsmanship.

"I think a serious campaign should be started to go back to the old application of the word sport, and the full splendid meaning of the word sportsman. Why, Colonel Newcombe was a grand old sportsman, but I am quite sure Thackeray never recorded that he ever 'went on a tear' or 'painted the town red.' Can't we invent some new word for the high flier? I have nothing particularly against him, as long as he keeps within bounds and does not call himself a sport. If The Tribune readers will suggest some nomenclature we will try to start a cult of the true rendering of the word sport.

"No doubt if it had not been for some of these so-called sports we might now be having a lovely race meeting, with women in their best dresses as spectators, and all the finest men of all classes who love a horse meeting enjoying the sport of kings. Might we not tonight be having a bout between two splendid boxers, who fight for honor and glory first and the purse as a necessary adjunct for their livelihood.

"But no, we can't have any of it, and all because these so-called sports spoiled the game, degraded the ring, and reviled the whole lovely combination by crooked methods. I believe the day will come when Americans will use the word sport as it is meant to be used, and the word sportsman as the highest pinnacle of everyday life to which a man or for that matter a woman can reach. That day will see the opening of fine and splendid race courses and well conducted clubs for skillful competitions in the manly arts.

"The authorities who have stopped racing and boxing must remember that they have stopped all the legitimate outlets for men to get the reasonable, natural and healthy excitement which all people crave for, especially English-speaking peoples. Fancy an Indian garrison town on the Rock of Gibraltar or the Soudan without a race course. If such a thing were possible, then it were possible for the British army to go on strike, and sure as I write these words, harm is being done to the people by stopping these self-same legitimate outlets for the animal spirits of the community.

"I feel sure that illegitimate forms of sport, perhaps sport of the kind above referred to, will attack our vitals and make the authorities sorry that instead of closing up nearly all the arenas of sport they did not drastically cleanse them. True sport is the finest thing on earth. It is the legitimate reward of good work. Ultimately the people will have it, and those who stand in the way to a regeneration of good sporting events are not true to the best interests of the people."

THINKS MODERN THOROUGHBRED SUPERIOR.

Upon the much-debated and always interesting question of the relative merits of the modern racer, and his predecessor, Mr. Alfred E. Watson writes in the third volume of the English Encyclopeida of Sport as follows:

"Eclipse was the grandson of the Darley Arabian; he became the sire of three of the first five winners of the Derby, and thus is gained something like a direct connection between the earliest day of recognized racing and the present time. It is said of Eclipse that he galloped at the rate of a mile a minute; and that statement is valuable as showing how utterly untrustworthy and ridiculous the records of sport in the last century must be. No horse ever galloped a mile in that time with half as much again added to it. This would lead, if one were tempted into it, to a discussion as to the relative speed and stamina of the thoroughbred horse now and a century ago—a profitless theme, as times vaguely spoken of as having been accomplished in bygone days were altogether untrustworthy. They have constantly improved since they have been taken with a near approximation to accuracy. The conviction is that the horse of today is speedier than his predecessor was; there are those who think him less gifted with staying power, though as to this opinions again differ. The crop of thoroughbred horses is now annually so enormous that there must inevitably be a large proportion of weeds; the more so as, for many years past, at any rate, speed rather than stamnia has been the object aimed at by breeders; but there is no sound reason to doubt that the best horses of today would gallop the four miles and a quarter (less 43 yards, if strict detail be demanded) of the Beacon Course at Newmarket at least as speedily as did the horses of any former period."

On the subject of "Breeding," Mr. Watson writes with vigor, and from this section we quote the following:

"Advocates of scientific breeding are specially contemptuous about what they describe as "rule-of-thumb"—that is to say, disregard of intricate and exhaustive calculations of strains of blood, in favor of the simple attempt to supply from the dam deficiencies in the sire, to obtain from the sire correction of weak points in the dam, and so forth. It is far from certain, however, that, if this is carefully done, the secret of breeding, so far as there is any, has not been discovered. The suggestion will no doubt provoke the contempt of the theorists, but it is an idea firmly held by many men who have considered the subject and dealt with it practically all their lives—and have very likely in their time been themselves ardent supporters of theories, before the futility of their most ingenious calculations had been repeatedly exposed. Certain questions as to make and shape being borne in mind, if a man sends a dam of winners to an approved good sire, the result is very likely to be a good animal."

CURTAILING THE CALCUTTA SWEEP.

There comes from India an announcement that will girdle the earth with gloom. In cities and camps, in bungalows and settlers' huts scattered over five continents, men and women will learn with something like consternation that something has happened to the biggest sweepstakes in the world. Owing to the "undesired publicity" recently given to certain of its enterprises, the Calcutta Turf Club has decided that in future no sweepstakes tickets will be issued to anyone not a member of the club, nor will the names of non-members be allowed to appear on the books.

It may be worth while to explain the situation lying behind this announcement. The Derby Sweep organized by the Calcutta Turf Club is a gigantic affair. It has grown enormously within the last decade. Ten years ago, we believe, the first prize was rather over $100,000; this year it was not far short of $250,000, and there were many other prizes running into thousands of pounds. The tickets, ten rupees each ($3.20), were applied for from every quarter of the world. The average European in India—he might be a strong opponent of betting at home—entered as a matter of course. So did the retired Anglo-Indian—civilian or soldier, merchant or planter; the officer on a P. and O. steamer, the returned traveler, the strolling player. Mr. Thomas Atkins organized a little private syndicate; the penurious Asiatic (he finds the western modes of gambling most enticing) took a hundredth part of a share; and at the other end of the scale wealthy firms bought tickets on a wholesale basis, or after the drawing, swooped down upon the lucky holder of the favorite with offers which led him to balance with nerve-racking anxiety the bird in the hand against his fellow in the bush.

And all this, as the poet has it, was not a thing of days, but had gone on for years and years. It was, of course, illegal, but everybody understood that high personages in the Secretariat, and in the police had no particular wish to make it awkward for the Calcutta Turf Club, and the Indian newspapers could be relied upon to maintain a discreet silence. Then, as ill-luck would have it, a London paper thoughtlessly published the facts to the world, and the Derby Sweep, instead of doubling in value as the child-like speculator might have expected it to do, straightway collapses, at any rate as an annual event of world-wide interest. An ironical circumstance is that the disclosure should have come about, not through the officious meddling of an anti-gambling organ, but through the blameless enterprise of The Daily Telegraph. It would, however, be rash to assume that the declaration of the changed conditions means the end of the Calcutta Sweepstakes. As most of us are aware, the resources of civilization in such matters are not always known to the law.—London Daily Mail.

REPUBLICAN began slowly, but worked his way up on the outside and closed a big gap into a fast going second. CAMELLIA was very speedy and set a fast pace, but seems a non-stayer and tired in the final drive. ETON BLUE closed a big gap and so did AFFABLE. PECASTA quit badly. IVABEL, off forwardly, ran in close pursuit of the early pacemakers and, moving up with a rush while rounding the far turn, took an easy lead after entering the homestretch, which she retained to the end. MARTIN W. LITTLETON steadily improved his position and, finishing fast and gamely, almost got up. HILARIOUS is unruly and kept bearing over to the outside in the homestretch, but came again and made a resolute finish. PRINCE AHMED began slowly and closed a big gap in the last quarter.
